The Nuffield Chairman Writes

Andrew Johnson,
Chairman
Nuffield Australia

Dear Scholars, Friends and Families,

I appreciate the opportunity writing to you upon this festive season. I recently had the pleasure of hosting two former Nuffield Chairmen in Adelaide for the Ashes Test. David Brownhill (1998 Sch) and myself just couldn't keep up with the vocals of Brendon Smart (1990 Sch) who just about lost his voice in support of the English cricket team in sympathy for our UK friends and colleagues.

Even though our tireless barracking was in vain, I reflected after returning home of what Nuffield is all about. We seek new frontiers and push boundaries but it is the friendships and networks we make that are forever, and which I consider the greatest gift of Nuffield. Whether it's a cricket match, or more likely a State or National event, I am always energised by meeting and talking with you, and as Nuffield continues to grow I am always encouraged by the initiatives that have been developed past and present to preserve this unique bond. I look forward to seeing you all soon.

Reflecting over the last 12 months has shown another highly successful year for Nuffield Australia, credit must go particularly to Jim and his team, but also the board and our predecessors for the endless enthusiasm that makes our great association. It is synonymous with the Nuffield name and it was only a few days ago I read the SA life magazine, where an article caught my eye about a South Australian inventor Ted Both, who 60 years ago invented the iron lung just in time to save a boy's life in England. Lord Nuffield was so impressed he ordered 5000 for any hospital in need and became a great friend of the Both family.

I hope your season, beginning or ending exceeds expectations, I hope our scholars travelling are safe and well, I congratulate you all and on behalf of the Board and Management of Nuffield can I wish you and your families a safe and Merry Christmas and a very prosperous New Year.

Andrew Johnson
Nuffield Australia Chairman

Wishing all Nuffield Scholars and Families,
Sponsors and Supporters a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from Nuffield Australia.
